As One Goes Around

It used to cost 10 cents to go from Brooklyn to Coney Island by trolley. For a long time I had been a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Brooklyn. I had come up from Havana, Cuba, and undergone a tough bone operation. I was almost ready to leave for the West and had been advised by Sister Superior it might be a good idea to go to Coney Island every morning for a week and get the beach air to build up my appetite and become used to being about again. I did but, on the very first day, while on the Board Walk, my wallet, with a little compartment for small change I used to carry in my hip pocket, was lifted. I was just a kid, pretty lame, broke and a stranger and had to get back to the Brooklyn Hospital! I went into a honky tonk and asked the bartender if he would loan me a quarter on the fine gold watch I am carrying even today. It was given me by my father and has a big three-lettered monogram on the case. The bartender looked at the timepiece. Then he shook his head. "No, lad, I don't want your watch" and then he handed me 50 cents, saying, "I may not be here the next time you drop in." I took the 50 cent piece and got my benefactor's name on a card. It was Henry Kavanaugh.

I owe Henry Kavanaugh that four-bit piece, still.

I went back to St. Mary's Hospital, got straightened out and the time came for me to start West. I could not begin the trip until I had gone down to Coney Island, paid my bartender friend his 50 cents and bought him a drink. Arriving there I found a new man behind the bar and, when I had listened to a story I was told, from that day on, I rarely look at my watch but what I tenderly recall Henry Kavenaugh. The new bartender told me, two days after I had been staked by him, Henry Kavenaugh, brooding over the death of his sister, had suicided.

Thousands of people came and went through it and it was the point at which everyone, who had business to attend to at the State capital had to change cars, and yet, as long as I can remember, it never grew in population. It was Lamy, New Mexico, and it was 18 miles from Santa Fe. The little railraod community was named after a famous early day Catholic Archbishop. It was just east of Lamy General Kearney met a big Mexican force in August, 1846, and near Lamy one of the famous southwest battles of the Civil War was fought. I recall Lamy because of a train accident occurring in boyhood days when a long freight train, carrying 60 double-deck cars of hogs, being shipped to the Coast, was wrecked near there. Many hogs were killed and hundreds were allowed to get loose and later growing wild, increased, and for years provided meat for countryside hunters. The 60 cars and two engines were demolished against the sides of the towering canyon. The trackage in that section ran through solid granite, which had to be blasted before rail laying was attempted. It was the oldest strata of the Rocky Mountains and Apache Canyon always called for slow running time of trains. Coming down the mountain of the canyon that day the two big, pardon the pun, "hog" engines, as they were termed in those days, really butchered the porkers. Seemingly to make it more certain Lamy would never grow in size, the hamlet got another setback the other day—The Santa Fe has taken off its branch train which ran to Santa Fe and now operates buses, instead.

An irregular freight schedule today serves New Mexico's capital.

Drain, Oregon, is a town that was.

Some 45 years ago that community had dreams of, one day, becoming a metropolis. The story of Drain came back to me last week when a local woman, in telling me she had entertained a school girl friend from Oregon, stated they had, together, 45 years ago, gone to Normal School at Drain. The Southern Pacific Railroad, anxious to tap the great forests in the Coos Bay country, had locating engineering parties out running lines for the easiest and most inexpensive road to the Coast. It looked for a time as if Drain would be selected as the point at which the rails would leave the main line for the Coos Bay branch. Thus it came about a Normal School was started there, business jumped and building was on with mushroom growth. In fact a venturesome group, without adequate finances, started a shoestring railroad construction out of Drain toward the coast. Lots were sold and a big townsite laid out. The company's money did not come in fast enough to meet construction expenses and, soon, the road building ended. Drain still held on, but its bubble burst; people moved away, stores closed. The projected railroad line went back to the forest. Some years later Eugene was selected as the point from which the Coos Bay country should be hooked up to and the 116 miles of road has been successfully operated since. Today Drain is a deserted place and sleeps on contentedly. Long freights and palatial crack trains at night flash by the hamlet and the mournful wail of the engine whistle echoes up out of the canyons but the town that had visions of one day becoming a metropolis heeds not—Drain slumbers on, peacefully, its dreams undisturbed.

P. M. MAIN AT A REMARKABLE AGE IS CALLED

A Fort Bragg Pioneer Died Quietly As He Neared 100

Deceased Helped To Provide Many Of Coast Projects

Special Correspondence of The Press

FORT BRAGG, June 17.—When Philip Melvin Main had almost reached the one hundredth year of life death called him and, peacefully, the veteran lumber man wandered over to the other side. Mr. Main was born in Pike county, Illinois, August 29, 1847, and would have been 99 years of age his next birthday.

Came Long Ago.

Philip M. Main arrived on the Mendocino coast when but 16 years of age and has made his home there since. He was employed in lumber activities of the section during his active life, working in the old Noyo Sawmill, and helped build the railroad from Pudding Creek to the Noyo River watershed, before the line changed the route through the present tunnel at Glen Blair Junction.

Daughter An Auditor.

Mr. Main was the father of six children, of whom five are living—three daughters and two sons; one daughter, Mrs. Nell Dick, is Auditor of Humboldt county, and a son, Melvin Main, lived with his father in the home at Fort Bragg.

Seeking A Compromise.

The Redwood Industrial Committee at the Federal negotiations held at Eureka recommended a 20 percent hourly raise boost contingent upon the increase of redwood lumber by the OPA, but this has not yet been accepted by the Union, which insists on a closed shop also. The strike has now lasted five months, ever since January 15. At that time the Union asked for 22½ cents per hour raise.

Exhibits New Product.

Mrs. Don Dascher has a Croft lily on display at the Chamber of Commerce, which is now in bloom and attracts much attention.

Seek Shallow Draft Harbors.

BRIDGE DIRECTOR WAS BURIED FRIDAY LAST

President A. R. O'Brien of the Golden Gate Bridge & Highway District went to San Francisco last week to attend funeral services of Director Hugo D. Newhouse, of the Golden Gate Bridge District, who passed away Wednesday last. Mr. Newhouse was buried from N. Gray Company Mortuary Friday and the Bridge Board and officials attended the services in a body. Mr. Newhouse had been a Bridge director about 14 years. The dead San Franciscan was a capitalist and owned much metropolitan property. He was intensely philanthropic and did much for Charity. Although a Hebrew, Mr. Newhouse, probably, did more for St. Joseph's Hospital, operated by the Catholics, than any other one person. John L. McNab attended Mr. Newhouse's funeral and, following the service, he and Mr. O'Brien came north together, Mr. McNab remaining at the McNab ranch over the weekend.

WILLITS, June 17.—The city council has called for bids for grading, shaping and oiling, and in instances applying a seal coat to six miles of Willits streets. The bids will be opened June 25 and the successful bidder is expected to start work on the project as soon as possible. The city council has also voted to employ another full-time policeman.

A Narrow Escape.

Miss M. Shuster, a Leggett Valley girl, had a narrow escape from drowning in Eel river. She was with a party of friends who noticed her get beyond her depth and she went down three times before help reached her. The rescuers dragged her out of the water and gave her artificial respiration, while a resuscitator was rushed to the scene by the Willits Fire Department under Chief Bob Alcott. Miss Shuster was revived about the same time the ambulance arrived and was brought to Howard Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Georgia Louise Ruediger, who was killed in an automobile wreck a few days previous, were held at the Mortuary, Monday. The remains were taken to Oakland for cremation.

Miss Joy Sawyers, of Branscomb, has entered the Sweetheart of the Rodeo contest. There are now three contestants and all are making a thorough canvass. The first advertising caravan left here yesterday and went as far as Sonoma.

Much interest is being taken in the approaching Frontier Days celebration and about all of the reserved box seats at the Rodeo grounds have already been taken.

BYRNES PLANT IS PURCHASED

Ben Byrnes To Sell Woods Holdings Near Philo

A deal has been completed for sale of the sawmill owned by ex-Sheriff R. R. Byrnes near Philo in the Anderson Valley section, the deal having been consummated the past week.

Interests Separated.

Mr. Byrnes and his brother, Ben Byrnes, owned the mill and a considerable amount of stumpage nearby. As the story comes to The Press Ralph Byrnes owned the plant and his brother, Ben Byrnes controlled the timber. Ben would not accept the offer made for the timber and retained it and will sell it as he sees fit.

Mill Was Sold.

Ralph Byrnes, unable to obtain help to operate his mill, sold the plant and the money has been paid over. Ralph Byrnes consented to remain at the plant and assist the new owners 30 days to run the plant. New machinery is to be added and the plant will be operated just as quickly as adjustments and repairs can be made. The new owners have logs, other than ones Ben Byrnes controls and will get their supply from a different section of the woods than that in which the Byrnes brothers have been cutting.

P. E. CONNOLLY LAID TO REST

A Prominent Former Resident Buried Here—Died In City

This morning at 9 o'clock the funeral of Patrick E. Connolly, a pioneer resident of Mendocino county, who died, after a considerable illness Sunday last in San Francisco, was held at Ormsbee Chapel, following services there the body was taken to St. Mary's church, where a requiem high mass was celebrated and later burial took place in the Catholic cemetery in the family plot beside Mrs. Connolly, who died several years ago.

Came Long Ago.

Mr. Connolly came to Mendocino county, seeking a place to make his home, in 1882 and since then, almost continuously, had been a progressive and helpful resident.

Accident Changed Plans.

Originally Mr. Connolly determined to follow the timber business and, seeking to learn it thoroughly, took a position in a mill at Navarro and rapidly advanced and became head sawyer, but a mill accident changed his plans and Mr. Connolly had to abandon what he had set out to make his life work.

Became County Recorder.

Upon his recovery Mr. Connolly, a very excellent office man, was elected county recorder and served several terms. He turned to banking and was one of the organizers of the Commercial Bank and became cashier of the institution.

Bought Abstract Business.

In 1909, together with P. W. Handy, Mr. Connolly purchased the abstract business then conducted by Preston & Preston and for many years operated it.

Married On Coast.

In 1888 at Navarro Mr. Connolly married Miss Mary Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hurley. The Connolly family consisted of Thomas E., William D., Marguerite E., Robert E., Gertrude and John L. Connolly.

Moved To City.

Some years ago Mr. Connolly went to San Francisco to live with his sons and daughter. A number of years ago Mr. Connoly served as a member of the State Legislature from this county. The dead man was a prominent Democrat of the old school and a consistent member of the Catholic faith. Pat Connolly, as everyone knew him, had a fine sense of humor, ever good-natured and a most industrious disposition. Mr. Connolly was in his middle eighties.

The Pallbearers.

The pallbearers at Mr. Connolly's funeral were: Judge Lilburn Gibson, Judge H. L. Preston, A. R. O'Brien, George P. Anderson, Ray Walsh and J. P. Smith.

BIG LOSS REPORTED

William Casteel, mill owner of Willits, has reported to officers $20,000 in cash and $10,000 in bonds have been stolen from his Willits home. The last time the lost valuables were seen was June 8. Three days later Mr. Casteel discovered the box and contents were missing. The story goes a number of persons knew Mr. Casteel was in the habit of keeping large amounts of money in his home.

A CLOVERDALE DINNER

Barbecue At Hospital Picnic Grounds On Sunday, July 21

At a regular meeting of the Ukiah Rod & Gun Club it was announced the Club will sponsor a Barbeque for members and their immediate families in the State Hospital Picnic Grounds on Mill Creek, Sunday, July 21, with Marion Freitas serving as "Chef de Barbecue." Ground floor operations are reported as being most interesting and more will be said about this later.

To Debate Question.

Reports were made by the Chairman of Game Birds, Traps, Fishing and Legislation, all of which were interesting. The Fishing Committee has been instructed to study the recommendations of Coast Stream Improvement which was presented by Al Bechtol, and to prepare a "pro and con" debate on these recommendations for the next meeting. The Legislative Committee was asked to contact our representatives in Washington and urge support of a House of Representatives Bill which recommends the building of fish ladders over all dams in streams where fish are known to run. It was also reported the California Sportsmen's Council has recommended to the Fish and Game Commission all of Lake, Mendocino and Sonoma counties be opened from August 7 to September 15 for deer hunting.

The Number Belonging.

Membership committee reported a total of 525 members at this date.

Plans For Future.

It was agreed the Club should have direct representation at the regular meeting of the Fish and Game Commission, which is to be held in San Francisco the latter part of June, and it was voted Clarence I. Mason, of Ukiah, represent the Ukiah Rod & Gun Club. This meeting will follow the next regular meeting of the North Coast Sportsmen's Council, to be held at Joe's Cafe, Cloverdale, Saturday night, June 22. All members of Ukiah Rod & Gun Club who can attend this dinner-meeting are urged to do so and to please contact President George David and advise him of their intentions so he may make reservation for them and arrange transportation. All proposals which have been made for new laws and regulations, or changes in existing laws, to the Fish and Game Commission, on hunting will be discussed at this meeting. This is the last opportunity to ask for any changes in the recommendations before final acceptance and approval by the Fish and Game Commission. Delegate Al Bechtol asked he be relieved of attendance at this meeting as pressing business makes it impossible for him to attend. It was voted Ray Pfleger attend in Mr. Bechtol's place.

WOULD ASSIST THOSE WHO NEED FINANCING

W. H. B. Fowler, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was here last week. Mr. Fowler, an old newspaperman and one-time member of The Chronicle staff, stated the object of the big combination he represented was to assist, financially, small businesses wherever it could do so without interfering with the ordinary prerogatives of banks.

On A Dangerous Run Flying B-46 Plane Past 26 Months

Special Correspondence of The Press

COVELO, June 18. — Mr. and Mrs. Al. Watchers, of San Leandro, are visiting the George Short family on Bald Mountain.

Mrs. Ruby Tuttle Stevens and Algy Ridley, of Santa Rosa, were visitors at the H. C. Tuttle home recently.

Husband Missing.

Mrs. Venus Power and her father-in-law, G. Power, of Oakland, lately passed a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hemenway, later returning to Oakland. Mrs. Power's husband, First Lieutenant Pal Melvin Power, of the Air Corps, has been missing in India since May 17. Lieutenant Power had been at Calcutta the last 26 months, flying a B-46 plane and was known to be a skilled and careful pilot. During the war he flew supplies from Calcutta to Burma, and it is thought his plane may have crashed enroute over the Himalaya Mountains during a heavy storm. Mrs. Power received a wire from Pat's commanding officer telling of the time he had been missing and assuring her she would be notified of all developments later. Pat was well known in Covelo, living a good portion of his time here with his wife on their visits to relatives. We all hope good news may yet be received regarding the young flyer.

At Rhoads Home.

Mrs. Ruby Coke, of Jamestown, and her sister, Mrs. Naomi Norton, and daughter, of Albany, visited their parents, the W. D. Rhoads family this week.

Returning To Eureka.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stockton, have sold their ranch north of Covelo, which they purchased about two years ago from Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bucknell and plan on moving back to Eureka in the near future.

Are Going Away.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Smith, of Corcoran, are visiting Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Graves, this week. They are also planning on disposing of most of their household things while here, as they do not intend to make their home here any more. Mr. Smith is an instructor and interpreter in a school at Corcoran, speaking several languages puts him very much in demand during these times.

A BOY MONSTER

RECENTLY, IN NEW BEDFORD, Prosecuting Officer Charles E. Brown, received a report a dog had been thrown in a pond and then used as a target. Officer Brown immediately checked with the Fall River police who informed him they were already working on the case, but did not have any information as to the person or persons involved. The following day, Mr. Brown returned to the South End Station and talked with Police Captain Silva, who told him that, through the efforts of Patrolmen John T. Henry and Patrick H. Derritt, the name of the offender, a lad residing in Fall River, had been ascertained. In Officer Derritt's report, he states he and Officer Henry talked to two young boys who stated that, on the day in question, they were in company with the older boy and that the dog, "Brownsie," followed them. The culprit was carrying a 22 gauge rifle and was firing at frogs, birds, and anything that moved in the water. He then threw the dog into the pond and fired four shots at it, hitting it in the legs and body as it was swimming to shore, killing the animal. He handed the gun to each of the boys in turn and told them to fire at the body, after which he told them they were all in it together and equally to blame. The two boys repeated this story in the presence of the older boy who denied it four times. The officers took the three to where the dog was buried, and as they began to uncover the body the boy admitted the story was true. It was at this point one of the younger boys started to cry and said Brownsie was a nice dog and they all loved him — just before he was thrown into the water the dog kissed his murderer. The culprit's comment to this was: "I guess he knew it would be the last."

Taken to court, the boy was found guilty and fined $200, said fine to be paid at the rate of $4.00 per week. He was also placed on probation for one year and the rifle turned over to the police to be destroyed.

TWO IDEAS OF CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT

THE BOY AT THE TOP of the accompanying illustration hurling a "kickback" keystone knows the men on strike in the Mendocino and Humboldt woods and mills have lost one-quarter of a year's wages. That does not concern him. His take will come regularly. The Companies have agreed to raise wages, almost to the point the strikers originally demanded, and which the Unions had no idea they would get, but he is not concerned in that. There is no argument over hours or working conditions, but he is not concerned with that. The fact a considerable amount of the War Bonds the men now on strike once owned have been cashed, because the men out of work had to have money to buy something to eat does not bother him. He is not particularly interested with anything, except the "Closed Shop." He is interested in that, because it means every man who works under his Union will have to go along contributing. He insists "the Union must get the men in and keep them in" and dues must be forthcoming. "Closed shop or Closed mills," he croaks.

The above, in contradistinction to the views of Ira Mosher, Chairman of the Board of the National Association of Manufacturers, which employs 80 percent of all workers, is startling. Chairman Mosher argues: "The average American workingman wants, above everything else, a steady job at good wages. It is the kind of security he dreams about. He wants it more than any synthetic security government can offer him. He wants something, in short, that only the employer can give him."

Here, in the best American tradition, we find Ira Mosher, chairman of the board of the National Association of Manufacturers, is urging year-'round jobs.

"If there must be temporary shutdowns and cutbacks in industry," Mr. Mosher recently told the Chicago Industrial Conference, "then industry should figure out some way to carry its workers through such periods. Industry must also co-operate to provide adequate unemployment insurance, sickness and health benefits and pension funds."

As the National Association of Manufacturers Board Chairman Mosher said workers have to eat 52 weeks a year—pay rent 52 weeks — must pay their bills 52 weeks a year. He added: "I have become convinced industrial management must go all-out in a program to schedule year-around employment, and carefully spread the payroll over 52 weeks."

THE FAILURE OF TRUMAN

IN ALL THE FUROR AND FURY aroused by President Truman's drastic proposal for curbing strikes, too much emphasis has by no means been placed on the fact a situation even remotely requiring such a measure would never have arisen if the Government had not coddled arrogant labor leaders many years. Time and again when the Administration should have taken firm action to put John L. Lewis and others like him in their place, it has refused to act or has acted so mildly as to be completely ineffective.

Time and again Congress has been called upon to pass labor legislation which has obviously become necessary both for the protection of the public and for the rank and file of labor itself. But Congress, too, has either refused to act or has passed inadequate measures which it has afterwards failed to improve when their weaknesses became apparent.

It is difficult, if not impossible, for any clear-thinking, American to approve a law, such as the President proposed, which would force men to work at the point of a gun, if necessary, and would take the profits from industry. Such legislation is not the answer to the situation.

The real need is for an overhauling of our labor laws to be done without hysteria or revenge, but as quickly as is consistent with thoroughness. This should have been done years ago. After long delay, Congress passed the Case Bill. This should have been helpful toward improving the present industrial chaos. But, what has President Truman done? He vetoed it! Vetoed it because he feared what the Labor Bosses had openly served notice on him they would do.

Continued industrial stagnation will destroy democracy in America. As Wendell Willkie once said, "Only the strong can be free. Only the productive can be strong."

But for the prompt help of neighbors and friends, the fire might have taken the new home also. The light truck from Ukiah, with its crew, responded promptly to the call for help. Furnishings were removed from both houses on the property and an heroic fight to save the newest of the homes resulted in doing so. A high wind prevailed most of the afternoon.

NYLON SELLERS HAVE FLEECED THE LADIES

Nylon-hungry housewives of northern California towns had a rude awakening from their dreams of receiving pairs of the much-wanted hose when San Francisco police arrested Mrs. Genevieve Fletcher and found she had been making a comfortable living by taking cash deposits for nylons which were to be delivered at a future date. According to police, Mrs. Fletcher claimed to represent the Kentcraft Hosiery Company of New York. A report from the Better Business Bureau of San Francisco states the company has not manufactured since 1945. Besides taking orders for the hosiery, the woman is said to have also booked orders, and taken cash deposits, for uniforms and other types of clothing.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, while chairman of the State Board of Prisons of California

A NEW TYPE OF ESCAPE WAS DEVELOPED

Clinton Duffy, Warden at San Quentin, does provide variety.

He had almost run out of the urge to allow different types of convicts to walk off the San Quentin reservation, so he did the unusual last week and allowed a one-armed life term murderer to enjoy freedom until some outsider sent word to Warden Duffy where his escaped prisoner was.

William McManus, 42, serving a life term for a first degree murder in Stanislaus county, disappeared early Monday from the San Quentin prison ranch, San Quentin officials reported. Inmate McManus was in the ranch bunkhouse located outside the prison walls, betwen 12 and 12:30 a. m., but was missing at the 2 a. m. checkup. Authorities pointed out an escape from the ranch would be comparatively easy since a back gate opens on the Greenbrae side, a half mile from Highway 101. Mr. McManus was sent to Folsom in May, 1936, and was transferred to San Quentin in September, 1944. He was described as five feet three inches tall, weighing 115 pounds, with blue eyes and brown-gray hair. His right arm was amputated at the shoulder.

Warden Clinton Duffy said there were about 60 men on the ranch. Their duties included caring for cattle, chickens and hogs. They were assigned to the ranch because of their good records. When he was arrested for the murder, Convict McManus already was in prison — Oregon state penitentiary. The body of his victim, a 35-year-old Ripon farm worker and well known ski jumper, was found in a field near Modesto March 16, 1936. He had been shot through the head with a .32 caliber pistol. Twelve days later, Mr. McManus was arrested in Vale, Oregon, and sentenced to a 10-year term for highway robbery. Six weeks after the Modesto murder, Mr. McManus was connected with it through the gun, which was found in his possession at the time of his arrest in Oregon. Mr. McManus confessed, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment at Folsom, which he entered May 6, 1936. He was 23 years old then. He was transferred to San Quentin September 23, 1944.

When Warden Duffy's protege had been returned to San Quentin through outside aid, he said the reason he walked off was: "I had too much time staring me in the face."

Since he has been sent to solitary.

Mr. McManus did not show good judgment in getting out of as easy a prison as San Quentin has proven to be by its 73 escapes. He certainly must have realized that, even a cock-eyed warden should be able to pick up a one-arm escape. An amusing situation involving two maimed paroled men took place in the San Joaquin Valley a number of years ago. The pair were out on parole and they met and, being overjoyed, as it was natural they should be when two old pals met, they decided, although they were supposed to be on the water wagon, it was meet and proper to knock over a few, but they were not in the big yard at San Quentin where all prisoners are supposed to have a full quota of jack. So they stole a gun and started on a hold-up sortie and when they had harnessed up a few dollars they wandered into a saloon and proceeded to get hilariously lit up. They grew friendly and bought drinks for everyone who came up and were hanging on the bar with their one good hand each had and the portions of their amputated arms draped over the neck of each other, when the authority strolled in and landed them in the booby hatch. In the course of a few days the pair were returned to San Quentin. Arriving there one of the escapes confided in Clerk Mark E. Noon: "Them hick cops are lulus. We had just blew in town and there was no pictures of us out. How in the hell did they know who we was?"

The enigma, Mark Noon told them, was too much for him to solve.

To Quit Teaching.

Miss Ada Hartly entertained at a farewell luncheon Thursday members of her Sunday school class in the classrooms at the Methodist church. Miss Hartly has taught beginners class at the Sunday school several years, but failing health has made it impossible for her to continue the work and the luncheon was a parting treat to the little tots belonging to her class. Mrs. Walter Tuttle is taking Miss Hartly's place and is being assisted by Mrs. Smart. Both Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Smart were present Thursday and assisted Miss Hartly, whose little guests were Sharon Field, Linda Tuttle, Honey Marie Arnold, Donna Lee Arnold, Barbara Conroy, Lyle Senn, Jay Smart, Dennis Smart, Douglass Presley and Sharolyn Tolman.

Truck Thief Taken.

A Chevrolet truck belonging to Mrs. Helen Lycky was stolen here Tuesday afternoon and driven to Fort Bragg where it was abandoned and later found by Coast officers. The man who made off with the truck had arrived here Monday without funds. He was fed by Mrs. Weise at the Valley Inn and later was in the bar and remarked on how well he had been treated. He had been fed and someone had given him money to get smokes and he also had some drinks. The following day, Tuesday, he hung around the bar and asked patrons to buy him drinks until the bartender, R. A. Tolman, warned him to quit and later drove him out of the bar. He went a short distance up the street, climbed into the truck and took off. He was not seen to leave but was driving so fast when he crossed the bridge below Boonville, Marshal McGimsey, who had recognized the truck,thought someone had been hurt and came to town to ask about it. He found the regular driver of the truck, Fred Parks, and asked him who was driving the truck. Mr. Parks thought the truck was parked but found it gone. A call was made to Clow's Store, below Philo, but the truck had already passed there. It had been recoognized by Mrs. Joan Abreu, who said the driver was weaving from one side of the road to the other. Coast officers were notified but they were confused as to the type of car to watch for- instead af a Chevrolet truck with a blue cab, they understod it was a blue coupe and let the truck get through Fort Bragg where the purloiner ran out of gas, or thought he had, as he did not understand switching to the auxiliary tank which held 15 gallons of gas. He was picked up while attempting to thumb a ride after leaving the truck and was lodged in the Fort Bragg jail and later moved to Ukiah. The truck was slightly damaged. The name of the man was not learned here. He claimed to be an ex-serviceman.

Constable Claude Presley was in Ukiah Tuesday on business connected with his office.

Sought School Data.

William Church made a trip to Berkeley during the past week to secure information regarding a course he hopes to take at the University this fall.

Was At Conference.

Mrs. C. L. Goodenough, wife of the local pastor, attended conference in Santa Cruz during the past week. Pressing duties here prevented Rev. Goodenough from attending.

Near River Tragedies.

Maryetta Hulbert, member of the graduating class of the eighth grade at Con Creek, and her young brother, Clarence, who is known to schoolmates at Anderson Union School as "Butch," both had close calls at their school picnics Thursday when they had to be pulled from the river after going under while swimming. The Anderson school held its picnic and swimming party at the D. H. Van Zandt pool and "Butch" attempted to execute a high powered dive that flattened out on the way down, turning into a flop which knocked the wind out of him. He went under but was quickly rescued by Mrs. B. E. McIntosh, who dove into the deep pool after him. Carl Witherell, bus driver, waded out and took the lad as Mrs. McIntosh brought him out. In going into the water Mrs. McIntosh did not take time to remove her eye glasses, a camera on a strap about her neck or her wristwatch. Her two small daughters, Marlene and Wilma, attend Anderson Union School at Boonville. Teachers of the school are Mrs. Wildia Richmond and Mrs. Hazel Nobles. The Con Creek School held its picnic and swimming party at River Rest and Maryetta was playing with a tube in the river and pushing it ahead of her. She was caught by the current and carried beyond her depth and was not a good enough swimmer to swim out. A classmate, Betty Wellington, held her up and their teacher, Miss Blanche Brown, jumped in and rescued her, not taking time even to remove her hat. Both Mrs. McIntosh and Miss Brown drove back to their homes to change into dry clothes and then returned to the picnics. Neither of the children suffered any after effects from their experience and the ladies passed it off, as if they were accustomed to life saving and thought little of it.

Joins Her Parents.

Miss Ilene Brown left Monday for her new home in Eureka. Her parents, the J. A. Browns, moved to that city in May and she has been staying at the M. L. Farrer home until the close of high school.

Saw The Show.

Mrs. B. G. Gowan was a Ukiah visitor Monday, going over to see the picture, "The Bells of Saint Mary's."

Come To Valley.

The George P. Bradford family has moved here from Palo Alto and will reside on the ranch they recently bought from Charles Murray, known here as the "Jim Hutsell ranch." Mr. Bradford also owns four other valley ranches and also property in Potter Valley. Mrs. Bradford and Mary Lou will arrive this week and Mr. Bradford will be here for weekends as often as possible. D. V. Presley operates the ranches.

Brought Daughter Home.

Mrs. Don MacKintosh and Mrs. G. E. McAbee were Santa Rosa visitors Tuesday. Miss Nancy MacKintosh, daughter of Mrs. MacKintosh, returned home with them. She has been attending Santa Rosa Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smoots and son, Wesley, left Sunday for an extended motor trip that will take them to Kansas City, where they will be guests of relatives. They plan to visit relatives in Colorado on the way East and will make stopovers in other states. The vacationists intend to return some time in August. Wesley graduated from the Gaskill school Friday and will ented high school this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Adams hope to have a short visit from their son, Ross Adams, who is a Warrant Officer in the Coast Artillery stationed in Panama. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have received a letter from their daughter-in-law, saying Ross was enroute to San Francisco and should arrive there around June 15. He had replaced the engineer, who had become ill while in port at Panama. It is presumed Ross Adams is on a mine-planter but Mrs. Adams did not say, when she wrote. He has served on a mine-planter all during the war and since being stationed in Panama. He had not expected to get home for a year and a half, hence his parents are, indeed, pleased at this unexpected visit.

"30" For Paper.

The Anderson Valley Record, the weekly newspaper published by Kenneth Christensen and his wife, Helen Christensen, has ceased to exist. Cards were mailed the first week they missed publication, saying they were unable to get the paper out that week.

Jimmy Babcock, employed on the Chico Record, was home for the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Babcock. He was in Woodland to get some pictures for his paper and took time out for a short trip home.

Many At Luncheon.

The annual Unity Club luncheon with 33 members present, was enjoyed at the resort home of Mrs. Frank Ward, "Highland Ranch," on Saturday week. The final business meeting of the club year was held with Mrs. Hazel Nobles, Club president, in the chair. Mrs. E. N. Knviila headed the social committee in charge of luncheon arrangements.

WHAT DID IT?

(Clem Whittaker)

Governor Warren's victory over Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, the CIO-Democratic candidate, was compounded of many factors—not the least of which, in the opinion of experienced political observers, was the groundswell of public protest against unwarranted strikes and federal government fumbling of postwar recovery problems. The short-lived national railroad strike, according to politakers and analysts, combined with the Los Angeles street car strike, the recently settled cannery strike, the "meatless Monday" butcher's strike in San Francisco and the threatening maritime walkout to build a resentment against leftist labor and all candidates sponsored by it—and Warren benefited tremendously during the public revolt against such excesses.

10 GRADUATED AT ALBERTINUM

Happy Affair Sunday Concluded With A Special Dinner

To the strains of a lovely march, 10 graduates of the Albertinum School filed into the Convent Chapel Sunday, June 16, at 2:30 p.m. The Altars were beautifully decorated with white lilies. Cap., pastor of St. Mary's Church, conferred a diploma on the following graduates: Kenneth Balls, Anne Brooking, Albert Carroll, Virginia Corigan, Betty Grecott, Charles Kruse, Ernest Maske, Marjorie Mendonsa, Lester Schornick, David Stewart. FOOD SITUATION MAY SOON BECOME ACUTE

Bakers in some cities began rationing bread—one loaf to a customer—and a government agency warned the nation may have a meat famine in a week. The Office of Economic Stabilization said livestock growers were holding back cattle and hogs in the hope Congress will lift meat price controls July 1 and "if it continues we will have a meat famine a week from now." Bakers in Madison, Wisconsin, were limiting bread sales to one loaf per customer. Bread lines formed in many bakeries in Los Angeles. New York city bakers ran out of bread early today.

★ CALIFORNIA DAIRY INDUSTRY ADVISORY BOARD

"HOW CAN I FEED MY FAMILY PROPERLY and still keep within my budget?" is the biggest question facing most housewives . . . not once in a while, but all the time!

One simple, basic answer to that question is, "Use more dairy foods."

Dairy foods supply the minerals, vitamins, proteins and carbohydrates in the well-balanced proportions you need for health, growth and vigor. They are the richest food source of calcium, needed for strong bones, beautiful teeth, clear complexions.

From the standpoint of nutritional values, dairy products are your most economical foods. At twice the price, they would still be your best "food buys."

California Dairy Products . . . For Life

★ The California Dairy Industry Advisory Board is supported by all producers and handlers of dairy products within the State under authority of an Act of the State of California administered by the Director of Agriculture.

P. M. MAIN AT A REMARKABLE AGE IS CALLED

A Fort Bragg Pioneer Died Quietly As He Neared 100 IN COUNTY 86 YEARS

Deceased Helped To Provide Many Of Coast Projects

(Carried from Page One)

A meeting was held at the Windsor Hangar Thursday night by representatives from all along the coast from Bodega Bay to Humboldt Bay. This was for the purpose of securing preliminary examinations and hearings regarding harbors for shallow draft vessels in the North Coast region. Congressional authority has been secured for investigations of the coast between Bodega Bay and Humboldt Bay and Congressional authority is expected to be granted for the balance of the coast at a later date.

Provided Western Thrills.

A rodeo was held here Sunday. There were plenty of bucking bronco and some good riders. Bull riding and bareback bronc riding also gave spectators thrills.

"The Skunk" Was Publicized.

Recently The Oakland Tribune ran a full page article with pictures of the Fort Bragg railroad between this place and Willits and also described the motor car, which is sometimes called "The Skunk." It attracted so much attention that now Oakland people are making the trip and four carloads of city people have covered the route and had a wonderful time, for this is one of the best scenic trips in the state.

Sports Club Changed Name.

The name of the local sportsmen's club has been changed from "Steelhead, Inc.," to Mendocino Coast Fish and Game Club. The change was due to the varied sports found here. In addition to fishing, the Mendocino coast abounds in abalone, duck and deer hunting. The name "steelhead" alone was not sufficient to properly advertise the many natural resources we have here for sportsmen.

From Eastern College.

Miss Gayle Bowman has returned from Missouri, where she has been attending college, to enjoy summer vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. P. J. Bowman.

Mr. and Mrs. David Baker were here from Vallejo last week, visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Burke.

SEND HOSPITAL COWS TO STATE HOSPITALS

A shipment of 18 head of prize Holstein cattle was made by truck last week to four different southern California hospitals, 16 of which went to Norwalk State Hospital, including 15 high-grade heifers and one fine young bull. Camarillo State Hospital also received a prize blooded bull and a similar animal went to Patton State Hospital. In addition to these, one of the Institution's prize Holstein bulls, Mendocino Star, is being transferred to Stockton State Hospital this week and will be used in building up Stockton's herd with the Mendocino strain. These transactions are the result of fine work on the part of the Talmage dairy division, headed by H. A. Fanslow. Arrangements were made by State Veterinarian Dr. F. J. Bolender, who recommends such deals for the benefit and building up of various State Institution herds.

Local Student Is Tops.

James Wheeler, Fort Bragg High School student, has been selected as first prize winner in the American Legion contest, which included the entire state of California. This year the topic was "American Citizens—Our Responsibilities and Our Privileges" and for his essay Jimmy received first prize from District One, which includes Del Norte, Humboldt and Mendocino counties, and first prize from the State Department of California, which is a cash award of $50 and a complete set of "The World Book Encyclopedia" in 18 volumes and Guide, awarded by the Quarrie Corporation, publishers, to state winners in the high school group. Jimmy has been an outstanding student and the fact his essay was entered in competition with schools many times the size of our local school brings honor to Fort Bragg High School as well as to the community and Sequoia Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Allen have returned to their home in Redding following a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Edna Vann and other relatives.

Bonds Should Be Voted.

A bond election will be held here today. It calls for the issuance of $30,000 bonds to build a new and up-to-date fire house, which is badly needed. We have one of the best volunteer fire departments to be found anywhere and it needs our assitance. Our department is so efficient that, 10 years ago, the fire insurance rates were reduced 18 percent and, if the bonds carry, we may probably get another reduction and this will pay for the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Roberts of Napa and Mrs. Robert Sullivan of Vallejo were here last week visiting friends.

YOUTHS STEAL THREE HORSES AT A RESORT

Ukiah residents who have been down on Russian river tell of a queer theft of three riding horses near Guerneville last week and state warrants are out directing the arrest of three youths, who may be apprehended any hour, for stealing three horses equipped with saddles and bridles from the Tom Peterson riding resort near Guerneville Monday. The trio rented the horses and the riding equipment from the Peterson resort for a few hours' jaunt and came through the hill country. At Drycreek bridge, west of Healdsburg, they abandoned the mounts and disappeared. The animals foraged for themselves three days, straying to the banks of Drycreek and then finding easy access into a cornfield, they did not suffer from hunger or thirst, but did ruin the corn crop. They continued wearing their saddles and bridles throughout their being turned loose. Mr. Peterson, apprised of the presence of the animals, readily paid a plump fee for damage to the farmer's corn crop, and search for the thieves was immediately started by Chief of Police Stefani.

CREWS BEGIN FORESTRY JOB

Daily Weather Will Be Reported During Bad Days

Following a seven-day training period at Howard Forest for Firemen and Fire Truck Drivers, the State Forestry crews went to their camps last week to await the fortunes of the 1946 fire season. For the first time since the beginning of the war it appears manpower of the camps will be up to quota. A total of over 80 are now employed in the fire classes. All lookouts are activated and the entire organization is expected to be in full swing by the end of the week.

To Broadcast Weather.

Word has been received by Ranger Campbell from the U. S. Weather Bureau, effective June 17, weather forecasts, covering Mendocino county, will be broadcast daily, except Sundays and Holidays, at 7 a.m. over KSRO, Santa Rosa. The chief purpose of this broadcast is for the utilization of the lumber industries, which, in turn, can take additional precautions in high risk areas, when forewarned of increasing fire weather.

put in a high line and stockpile for logs for winter cutting. Most of the timber will come from the former Frank Williams ranch at the head of Big river and a crew is now getting out logs.

Hurt In Accident.

Paul Eberhardt, of Branscomb had his leg broken in an auto accident near that place. Mr. Eberhardt was brought to Howard Memorial Hospital for first aid and then transferred to the Marine Hospital on Mare Island.

Was In City.

Dr. Raymond A. Babcock passed several days in San Francisco taking a well earned rest. During his absence his practice was attended to by Dr. Edward Macklin, of Kelseyville, who has a private plane and made daily trips that way. This is not much like it used to be when it took a team two days to make that trip.—The country doctor advances.

On A Vacation.

Lee Wise, local manager of the P. G. & E., is taking a month's vacation and left last week with his family for a visit with relatives in the east. During the war years Mr. Wise did not have a vacation and he had this coming to him.

Landmark Vanishing.

The "Woodpecker House" is now being torn down by the owners of the property. This place is an old landmark and one of the oldest houses in this section. It is located on the old Sherwood road about half way between Willits and Sherwood and many years ago woodpeckers filled it with holes in which they stored acorns and were assisted by pack rats. In former days travelers who went that way on stages were told the story.

Club Had Dance.

The Business and Professional Women's Club gave a dance at the Pavilion Saturday night.

Mrs. Herbert Bass and daughter, Geraldine, are here from Kentucky for an extended visit with Mrs. Bass' mother, Mrs. W. L. Mullinex.

Mrs. Charlotte White has returned to her home in Richmond following a short visit with her sisters, Mrs. Virginia Ciancio and Mrs. Patsy Brewer.

Mrs. Lee Persico and sons visited friends in San Francisco last week.

Eagles Install Officers.

Willits Aerie, F. O. E., has installed the following officers: Ogle Brown, president; Will Pippin, vice-president; Paul Dory, chaplain; Oscar Brooks, conductor; A. M. Sacry, secretary; Ward Young, treasurer; Chas. Haun, outer guard; Ernest Page, inner guard, and William Malsbury, trustee. Eighteen members of Ukiah Aerie came to attend the installation and an elaborate banquet was served.

Entertained Children.

Willits Chapter, O. E. S., held a special meeting Saturday to entertain children of members. Games and refreshments were special features.

Ray Hall attended a railroad convention in San Francisco last week. Mr. Hall accompanied him and then went on to Santa Cruz to visit her grandson.

Mrs. Annie Owens returned from a visit in San Francisco last week.

Grange Picnic.

Pomona Grange had a basket picnic at Quadrio Grove yesterday. Members of Lodgemen's families and some outsiders spent a most enjoyable day.

Bride Is Here.

Mrs. Donald Ford was given a surprise wedding shower by a large party of newly made friends. She is a native of Missouri and met her future husband while he was in the armed service and they were married in the east and this was the first time Mrs. Ford had been so far away from home and it must have been a great pleasure to receive such a warm welcome to her new home.

Married At Fort Bragg.

Yesterday, Captain Westwood Copland and Miss Margaret Knolte were married at the Fort Bragg Baptist church. Capt. Copland is a returned veteran and took part in more than 50 missions over Germany and Italy. The bride has a beauty parlor in Fort Bragg and Rev. and Mrs. Howe are old friends and Rev. Howe was the officiating minister.

Visited Grandmother.

Miss June Muir was here from Blocksburg, Humboldt county, last week, visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Austin Muir. Miss Muir was recently released from the Spars and passed two years at Miami, Florida. She has signed a contract to teach in the Cloverdale school next term.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Casteel have announced the engagement of their daughter, Wanda, to Robert M. Knudson of Ukiah. Miss Casteel was a member of this year's high school graduating class.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Howe have returned from a Baptists meeting in San Francisco.

Mrs. Marie Belio arrived from her home in Los Angeles last week for a visit with relatives and friends. She still has some property interests here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nisula, former residents now living in Boonville, were here visiting friends last week.

Had Training Class.

Seven days of training for foremen and truck drivers of the State Forestry crews was held at Howard Park and the crews have now gone to their camps. For the first time since the war the service has full crews and more than 80 men are enrolled. There are now lookouts at all the station peaks and the service is ready to handle woods fires. On account of the late dry spring the fire season will probably start sooner than usual but the grass and other growth is not as heavy as usual.

Club Is Inactive.

The Women's Improvement Club is now taking its regular summer vacation and at the last meeting new officers for the coming year were installed. They are Mrs. Grace Williams, president; Mrs. Loretta Codington, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Good, second vice-president; Mrs. Flora Saxon, secretary and Mrs. Neva Watson, treasurer. A musical program was furnished by the Girls' Glee Club of the High School. Mrs. Roy Good, past president, was presented a beautiful bouquet of roses and Mrs. Saxon and Mrs. Watson, both of whom have served several terms, were also remembered.

TWO CATCHES ARE REPORTED

Willits Police And Poison Oak Both Get Offender

Willits police caught Art Foster, ex-inmate of San Quentin, and Art Foster caught a heavy dose of poison oak near the northern city last week. Along with the poison oak Mr. Foster is now enroute to San Quentin where, as a parole violator, he will have to serve out the term he got probation from not long ago. The arrested man had been looked for by police of several cities many weeks past, as the result of bad check and forgery charges against him in Oakdale, Modesto and other valley points.

Was Tipped Off.

Acting on a tip he was in Willits, driving a station wagon, and had made certain threats, the Willits police were quickly on the job. About 1:30 a. m. he was seen near the corner of Main and West Valley streets, where Officer Jodoin ordered him to stop, but he stepped on the gas and drove away. The hunt was made a few minutes, and a little later his car was found abandoned at the east end of Mendocino street, near the railroad.

Heard A Noise.

All night Chief Hollingsworth and Officers Jodoin and Bergsen covered the area, with no sign of the man until about 7 a. m., when Officer Bergsen heard a slight noise as they passed a big clump of poison oak alongside the railroad tracks, not more than 200 feet from where the car was abandoned. Chief Hollingsworth and Officer Bergsen, not knowing whether Mr. Foster was armed, took up a protected position and ordered the man supposed to be in the bushes to come out from the poison oak with his hands up, so he did, and apparently was glad to have the hunt over with. He had no gun on him at the time of arrest.

Passed By Him.

Mr. Foster told police he had climbed over the fence to the railroad right-of-way soon after abandoning the car, and as he ran down the tracks had stumbled into the ditch under the poison oak, built and lay still while the officers passed near him several times as they searched the railroad yards. However, he made no attempt to get out, until he was discovered.

Is Wanted Elsewhere.

According to the local police record Mr. Foster is wanted for violation of parole and for a number of bad check charges, and he will be held for the proper authorities from the counties where these warrants were issued.

GAVE A HOSPITAL

A California philanthropist has donated $100,000 for construction of a 30-bed hospital at Branson, Mo. The donor was M. B. Skaggs, Oakland, retired president of a grocery chain (Safeway). Mr. Skaggs is owner of Skaggs' Game Park at Minty, Mo., near Bratison, a 14,000-acre tract on which he spends four months of each year.

MRS. E. P. THURSTON SOLD LOCAL PROPERTY

Mrs. E. P. Thurston, who for some months past has been making her home at Marysville, Washington, with her daughter, sold her home here to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams, of Willits, who lately disposed of holdings on Big River and contemplate making their home here.

EVERYONE BLAMING EVERYONE AS CAUSE

San Francisco butchers said today the meat shortage was the producers' fault. Cattlemen claim there is plenty of beef in cold storage, and blamed the shortage on the OPA. Housewives simply knew they could not get meat on the table. Milton Maxwell, head of the AFL Butchers' Union, charged producers with deliberately holding back supplies in an attempt to discredit the Office of Price Administration. But cattlemen and hog producers accused Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles with using "terroristic" methods to force Congress to extend the OPA by threatening consumers with a meat famine. Roy Owens, of Red Bluff, regional livestock chairman for the California Farm Bureau Federation, said: "Mr. Bowles is either crazy or so desperate he is willing to brush aside all facts to gain his ends. If Mr. Bowles had any inkling of the livestock industry he would know cattle cannot profitably be held off the market when ready for slaughter; every livestock producer in the state is doing everything in his power to move his stock to market." Industry leaders quoted Department of Agriculture statistics in an effort to show cold storage beef supplies are less than 10 percent below average. But the Butchers' Union leader, attacked "the big growers and packers for striking against the government and the people."
